MONDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 6.

We receive a great many communica tions from persons whose names are withheld, or unknown to us, and of course we can pay no attention to them.

The "Christian Statesman." The fifth number of this able, dignified, and highly interesting weekly paper was issued on Saturday last. Though a literary and miscellaneous paper, the feature that principally characterizes it is its devotion to the cause of AFRICAN COLONIZATION, than which no more benevolent, philanthropic, and patriotic scheme has ever been presented to the American people. And yet this cause has few ardent and enthusiastic supporters, who are willing and eager to bestow of their wealth in furtherance of its objects. Its friends are intelligent and reflecting men, who look carefully to the great result of their labors rather than with a feverish anxiety to the present means of its advancement, and the controversies and other concom itants attending its progress. But there is no great class, no party, no interested persons, no set of public journals, to whom the publishers may look for aid. We therefore make an unsolicited and voluntary appeal in their behalf to OUR BRETHREN OF THE PRESS throughout the United States, and ask them to examine the STATESMAN for themselves, and to speak of it and its objects to their readers as they severally deserve. Its editors, the Rev. R. R. GUBLEY and DANIEL R. GOODLOE, are gentlemen of the highest character, both of them possessing in an eminent degree the confidence, respect, and good will of the people of this community, and of the country, and both writers of acknowledged ability. They also entertain sound national sentiments, such as will meet a response, we are rejoiced to know, in every homestead throughout the land, save where the excitement of a transitory controversy has cast a shadow over the clearer views by which our countrymen are wont to be guided. Read the following, which we quote from the editorial columns of this paper. It is brief, but illustrative of the temper of the Statesmansuch an appeal, in fact, as should be made as often as once a week to every family within the limits of our wide-spread Republic.

THE UNION .- Few, if any, over-estimate the importance to the whole race of man of the Union of the States of this Republic. This importance seems too obvious to require illustration, and can hardly be made clearer by argument. The dangers to which the Union may be exposed lie not, in our judgment, in any opposition of interests between any of its sections, nor in the variety and contrariety of opinions which may arise among our widespread population, but solely in those prejudices and passions which, unduly regulated and excited, sometimes overthrow all the bulwarks of wisdom, and, like a conflagration, involve our very homes and dearest interests in ruin. The great object of the Union, as declared in our Constitution, was to insure domestic tranquillity and promote the general welfare; and since it is maintained by no armed force, but rendered strong only by the consciences and hearts of the people, so nothing can endanger its perpetuity but the decay of popular affection for its principles and the high results which they are embo-died to secure. It is not to Congress nor to State Legislatures, not to proclamations nor public debates, not to unity of opinion, even, on all great questions of private or public duty, that we must look for the stability of the Union, but to the calm, deep, virtuous motives of individuals, ready, even at great sacrifices, to advance great ic ends, disposed to take counsel from the quiet majesty of the reason, and awe into silence all the tumult and fury of the passions.

It is to the minds of individuals who believe in Providence, who are under law to God, who regrard our institutions and our Union as ordained laudable one. We like all associations of the appeared before Justices Morsell and Goddard not less by Divine than human wisdom for the kind; for they not only improve the members at noon to-day, to hear the final decision regood order and peace, and enduring liberty and in public speaking, teaching them the different specting the amount of security to be given for welfare of this nation, and, through us, to shed light upon all the nations of the world, that we gestures of the stage—impressing upon their look for that cander and forbearance, that pro- minds highly useful precepts and maxims which found reflection and all-comprehending charity, that love of justice and of all mankind, which, once prevalent among our citizens, will leave no place within the wide circuit of the republic for hatred or for discord, and make our Union im- highest pinnacle of fame. By reference to perishable. Our confidence is mainly in Him another column it will be seen that the society has so protected them in war, increased and prospered them in peace, so enriched and ex- of the kind are invited to attend. We hope the affidavit of Major Tochman certain other alted them, and, above all, instructed so many the young men of our city will join while they of us to regard the eternal truths and laws of Christianity as His last, clearest revelation- number to be admitted is limited by their conour inextinguishable light, and never-wasting stitution.

Hon. Stephen A. Douglas.

There is, probably, no public man in the United States more popular in this city than the fascinations of the stage as among the most the able, agreeable, and gentlemanly Senator unfortunate with which a youth can be infatufrom Illinois. He is emphatically a man of the ated, and all the improvement derivable from people—unostentatious, practical, and intelli- a Thespian society as dearly purchased in time gent, his intercourse with our citizens is un- and money, and sadiy detrimental to useful and restrained and familiar, yet ever dignified, and honorable progress in life. They who are now mutually respectful. We believe, indeed, that commencing such an enterprise are, no doubt, the first suggestions of his nomination for the guided by the best intentions; but the best in-Presidency originated here, where his public tentions of youth hardly afford as sure a pathand private career are as familiar as household words to us all. His strength and popularity, also, are well-measured by the politicians of this city; in evidence of which, we submit the following from the editorial columns of the Republic, of this morning:

"Senator Douglas is at the Astor House, in the city of New York. He appears to be mov-ing in carnest, and we should advise his rival Democratic aspirants for the Presidency to be looking about them. Now we hear of him at his birth-place in Vermont, telling the sovereigns of the fashion in which he will carry on Cabinet-making. Next we see him at Saratoga, the observed of all observers, hob-a-nobbing with all creation, and winning golden opinions from all sorts of people. Anon, he is at Tammany Hall, pouring oil on the agitated waters of Democracy. Then he turns up at the agricultural fair of the Empire State, and astonishes the farmers by his talk about crops and cattle; and a day or two afterwards he is at another fair in Ohio; and now dividing the caresses of Barnburners and Old Hunkers at the ble carelessness of the companies or their Astor House. We should not be surprised if officers? the celerity of his movements, and the success of his operations, should embarrass Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Cass very seriously. It looks very much as if he were spreading his nets when the skies fall as most any one of his Democratic friends, it will not be his fault."

We do not know how far Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Cass may become embarrassed by the celethink a leap into the White-House with a little highly honored. That gratifies us.

assistance from his republican fellow-citizens may very likely soon prove quite embarrassing to its present occupant and some of his friends, should any such be found in the day of his ad-

Mrs. Tochman. Sixty-seven Hungarians in the city of New York have published a card in the Tribunc, with their names subscribed, in which they denounce. one De Ahna, "formerly a lieutenant in the Bavarian army," as a willing instrument of European tyrants, who "long obtruded himself on the Hungarian refugees," and "never took part in the struggle for Hungarian freedom." They

"De Ahna came to New York, where he has certain companions entirely worthy of him, who joined with him to obtain, by bribery of the Hungarians, false charges against Mrs. Appollonia Tochman, (born Jagielio,) a lady who, during the Hungarian struggle for freedom, deserved well of the cause. His proposals, as might be supposed, were rejected with indignation, until at last he found a person in a German named Koelbel, who, in point of character, was on a level with himself. De Ahna had the means of inducing Koelbel to present an entirely unfounded charge against the character of the lady above mentioned. The value of a testimony obtained in this way can easily be estimated, when it is known that the author (Koelbel) IS NOW IMPRISONED ON BLACK-ISLAND FOR AN INFAMOUS

CRIME!!! They speak of Mrs. Tochman as having "obtained the most general esteem in Hungary as the superintendent of the Comorn hospital, for her self-devotion, her skill, and her noble disinterestedness." They pronounce the statements of De Abna "vile calumnies," and declare that they are persuaded, from their own knowldge, that "Mrs. Appollonia Tochman has laid the Hungarian nation under the obligations above mentioned, as well as many others, and that HER CHARACTER IS, IN ALL RE-SPECTS, ABOVE IMPEACHMENT."

They conclude with the following appeal to 'the calumniated lady:"

"May you continue, noble Pole, as a martyr of freedom, to discharge the lofty mission for the relief of your fellow-sufferers in exile. In In Hungary, you have strengthened the defenders of freedom in their zeal and devotion; you have taken care of the wounded among them; and now, far from your beloved fatherland, it is your noble lot to alleviate their sufferings.'

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS .- The following analysis of the accidents occurring on railroads from causes which may be avoided by proper care on the part of the passengers, is taken from a work recently published in London, entitled morality, below which men dare not venture. "Lardner's Railway Economy." Its publication ought to have a good effect in this country.

AMERICUS VESPUCCI.-This lady, it is said, lives in Paris, "in half-voluntary exile." A writer in the Providence Journal describes her gratifying to our most worthy President. A and if he does not catch as many larks as "a young lady, with lovely features, and a condition of doubt on so important a matter is manly, patriotic character," &c. It takes some time for her to grow old.

new See Postscript. The steamship Prometheus arrived at New York on Saturday last, from San Juan, whence she left on the 26th ultimo. She brings intelligence from California to New York in twentyeight days-the shortest time on record. The Nicaragua route being now proved to be the shortest, as well as the safest and most healthy, will unquestionably be the route for the great travelling public, and also for the United States mail, in a very short time.

The Prometheus brings four hundred pas sengers and one million of dollars in gold on freight.

The advices from San Francisco are to the 6th ultimo. The State and Congressional elections had taken place, but returns enough to make the exact result known had not been received. In San Francisco the Whigs carried every ward of the city but one. The Whig majority in San Francisco was about one thousand votes. The Democratic majority in Sacramento city and county was four hundred.

We select from the account of the election which we find in the New York Herald, of yesterday, the following summary:

"The election seems to have absorbed everything else. The returns, as far as received though in the main imperfect, from the counties of San Francisco, Sacramento, Yolo, Nevada, El Dorado, Solano, Marin, Tuolumne, San Joaquin, Calaveras, and Santa Clara, give Pearse B. Reading (Whig) a majority over John Bigler (Dem.) of about 1,000, and the balance of the State ticket from 600 to 800. The counties of Mendocino, Napa, Klamath, Trinity Shasta, Los Angeles, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, and Santa Cruz will give Reading at least 5,000 majority. This puts his election beyond the possibility of a doubt; and the same vote will elect the most of the State ticket.

In the same summary, there is a conjecture that the Democrats have carried the Legislature; but if the foregoing summary be correct, we should presume that the Whigs had carried the Legislature, and one, at least, of the two Representatives to Congress. This, in our opinion, would be a legitimate inference. The two or three weeks-possibly by the next arrival from Chagres.

The mining news is favorable. A destructive fire occurred at Marysville on August 30th, consuming eighty buildings in the business part of the city. The loss is stated at $500,000

The Indians were very troublesome. Be-tween Sacramento and Salt Lake several emigrants had been killed, and the mail riders had dso been attacked. Two men, McKenzie and Whittaker, had been executed at San Francisco, and two executions had taken place at Sacramento. In other respects, matters had been comparatively quiet. Robinson, who was reprieved by the Governor, had been hung by the people. The markets generally were quiet. A brisk trade was anticipated in a few days, it being the season for minors to lay in their winter stores. Flour was active at $10 50 @ $12 00; corn $3 @ $3 50; corn meal $7 50; mess pork $15; clear do. $17; hams $20; lard $14; outter 25 @ 40 cents; cheese 10 @ 15 cents. Boots and shoes were abundant, and clothing generally dull.

The steamer Tennessee left San Francisco on the 1st for Panama with $1,700,000 in gold, and the Constitution with $100,000. Th mer had two hundred and fifty, and the latter one hundred and twenty passengers.

The above advices were brought to San Juan by the steamer Pacific, which arrived at that place on the 20th ultimo, with two hundred and twenty-five passengers and $100,000 in gold. The North American left San Juan for San Francisco on the 20th, with two hundred and fifty passengers. The General Hunter left for the same place on the 21st. It is reported that the propeller Lafayette was entirely destroyed by fire in the harbor of Chagres on the 11th. Her cargo was partially saved.

the appearance of De Ahna before the Criminal Court, to answer to the second charge of slander made by Major Tochman, on behalf of himself and lady. The bond was fixed at one thousand dollars, five hundred having been given on the former charge. Dr. Magruder entered on the bond as surety.

Walter D. Davidge, esq., for the prosecution, moved that he might be permitted to file with affidavits. This motion was opposed by E. C. Morgan and P. Barton Key, esqs., counsel for the prisoner, who alleged that they would only agree to opening the case for this purpose on condition that a like privilege be extended to all parties, of introducing new matter at discretion. The sitting magistrates overruled the motion of Mr. Davidge.

A VILLAIN .-- We yesterday saw one of the most unprincipled scamps that ever disgraced this city walking through the streets with two apparently respectable young ladies .- Boston

Thus the Bee commences its denunciation of bad man; but we quote the above lines in honor of the women of America. It is a just matter of surprise that the "apparently respectable young ladies" should be found in the company of a dishonest and unprincipled man. Women are our true reformers; they have it in their power to fix the standards of honor and

HALL & BROTHER present a fine chance to nankind in general, but especially the fairer portion of them. Refer to their advertisement, Steamboats and Racing. M ESSRS. EDITORS: A statement appeared in the National Intelligencer of the 3d inst., signed Job Corson, (which said Corson knew at the time to be false,) that the Washington beat Capt. Page's brag boat, the William Selden, one mile in twenty-six minutes running on the preceding day, and can beat her at any time. Per baps I do not understand his mode of trying the speed of boats, as I am not an old boat-builder, or an experienced captain. He may have some new way of heating that I do not know of. If he means that he beat the Selden on last Thursday, while making an excursion trip to Aquia Creek, he is certainly mistaken, as he knew that the advertisement stated that there would not be any steamboat racing. He (Corson) did know that the Selden was not trying for speed, (if he counted her revolutions, which he says he did;) she was only making eighteen to twenty revolutions while he was passing, and we had only twenty-eight to thirty inches steam, which I can prove. He knew that the Selden could make twenty-eight to thirty revoluions with ease; he knew that there would be no racing on that occasion on the part of the Selden; he took the opportunity to run his brag New York boat by the Selden, as it would be the only opportunity, and then cry out "beat!" This will not do, Mr. Corson; you might as well claim a beat of the Selden when she is tied to the wharf, and you then run by her. The distance you run in your twenty-six minutes, from the ropewalk to the Fort, can be run by the old Phoenix in twenty-six minutes. The Selden can and has run it in less than fourteen minutes-the Champion in sixteen minutes. You must have been mistaken in looking at your watch; you must have got along a little faster, Mr. Corson, for the Selden was not over fifteen minutes in running from where you started to where you turned your boat round, by the quest of your engineer, as he states that he feared she would break down or burst her boiler with eighty pounds steam on her, and God only knows how much more than eighty pounds there was, as he had turned the cock that connects the steam with the steam-gauge, and thus no one knew how much steam there was on her. I think peo-ple ought to be careful how they risk their lives with such reckless steaming. I certainly shall not carry more than forty-five pounds of steam, if the Selden is beat. The actual result, however, will be known in some kelsons, which was the reason of their turning about. I engineer, Mr. Obon, said her engine was jumping off her supposed that we should have had them at the creek, a cording to their advertisement in the Baltimore Sun the day before, which was circulated on the morning of the excursion, just in time to prevent the people knowing any better than that there would be a race that day. It was too late for me to contradict what you had published, and the consequence was we had a very small company. Notwithstanding the advertisement for the excursion stated there would be no race, this part of the transaction beats all the rascality I have seen practised for many a day, as it not only deprived many a person from enjoying a pleasant excursion, but put the company to consider able expense without accomplishing their object. It also put me to considerable expense and trouble, without benefiting either Corson or the company. Now, Mr. Job, we will start fair, if you will have a little eatience, (which you ought to have.) I will, as soon as my boat is finished and put in good running order, give you another chance for repairs, (or I will have one myself,) and beat you more than I did when the New mise from the upper ten thousand, which it seems you cannot forget or swallow. It is a bitter pill, but you must take it; and I must go further to prove what I have said: If you or your owner have a few thousand dollars to spare, it will be covered on the issue.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

We would most respectfully inform the ladies of Washington and the public generally, that we have just received from the Northern Market an entire new and splendid stock of Dry Goods, suitable for the Fall and Winter trade. To those of our friends and customers who have heretofore patronized us so liberally, we desire to return our grateful thanks, and hope by politeness and strict attention to business that we shall still merit a continuance of their favors, and also the favor of the whole purchasing community. We deem it useless to enumerate goods, but would merely say that our stock consists of a general assortment of all kinds of fashionable and desirable Dry Goods, which will be sold very low for cash. We invite everybody to give us an early call, and cash. We invite everybody to give us an early call, and we promise to sell bargains.
